

STEYNING GRAMMAR SCHOOL

SINGLE EQUALITIES POLICY

ADOPTED BY STUDENT WELFARE COMMITTEE: 7 OCTOBER 2015

Legal framework

1. We welcome our duties under the Equality Act 2010 (updated May 2014) to eliminate discrimination, advance equality of opportunity and foster good relations in relation to disability, race, sex (gender), religion/belief, sexual orientation, gender identity (and as relevant, pregnancy/maternity, and in relation to employment; age and marriage/civil partnership).
2. We recognise and act on all opportunities to promote community cohesion. We believe that all people are of equal worth. We aim to ensure that learners, their parents or carers, staff and visitors are treated with dignity, respect and equity. Through the school culture we aim to educate, inform and nurture best practice and behaviour so that: 'Every person is the best they can be.'
3. We recognise that these duties and intentions reflect international human rights standards as expressed in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, the UN Convention on the Rights of People with Disabilities, and the Human Rights Act 1998.

Guiding principles

4. In fulfilling the legal obligations and our intentions cited above, we are guided by nine principles:

Principle 1: All learners are of equal value.

We see all learners and potential learners, their parents and carers and staff, as of equal value:

- whether or not they are disabled
- whatever their race (ethnicity, culture, national origin or national status)
- whatever their sex (gender)
- whatever their gender identity or whether they are undergoing gender reassignment
- whatever their religious or non-religious affiliation or faith background
- whatever their sexual orientation
- protection against discrimination including students who are pregnant or have recently given birth

Principle 2: We recognise and respect difference.

Treating people equally (Principle 1 above) does not necessarily involve treating them all the same. Our policies, procedures and activities must not discriminate but must nevertheless take account of differences of life-experience, outlook and background, and in the kinds of prejudice that people may face, in relation to:

- disability, so that reasonable adjustments are made
- ethnicity, so that different cultural backgrounds and experiences of prejudice are recognised
- sex (gender), so that the different needs and experiences of girls and boys, and women and men, are recognised
- religion, belief or faith background
- sexual orientation
- gender identity

(and as relevant, pregnancy/maternity, and in relation to employment; age and marriage/civil partnership).

Principle 3: We foster positive attitudes and relationships, and a shared sense of cohesion and belonging.

We intend that our policies, procedures and activities should promote:

- positive attitudes towards disabled people, good relations between disabled and non-disabled people, and an absence of harassment of disabled people
- positive interaction, good relations and dialogue between groups and communities different from each other in terms of ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status, and an absence of prejudice-related bullying and incidents
- mutual respect and good relations between boys and girls, and women and men, and an absence of sexual, homophobic, and gender identity based harassment

Principle 4: We observe good equalities practice in staff recruitment, retention and development.

We ensure that policies and procedures should benefit all employees and potential employees, for example in recruitment and promotion, and in continuing professional development:

- whether or not they are disabled
- whatever their ethnicity, culture, religious affiliation, national origin or national status
- whatever their sex (gender) and sexual orientation
- whatever their gender identity

(and as relevant, in respect of pregnancy/maternity, age and marriage/civil partnership).

Principle 5: We aim to reduce and remove inequalities and barriers that already exist

In addition to avoiding or minimising possible negative impacts of our policies, we take opportunities (including positive actions) to maximise positive impacts by reducing and removing inequalities and barriers that may already exist in relation to:

- disabled and non-disabled people
- people of different ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds
- girls and boys, women and men
- sexual orientation
- gender identity

(and as relevant, in respect of pregnancy/maternity, and in relation to employment; age and marriage/civil partnership).

Principle 6: We consult and involve widely

We engage with a range of groups and individuals to ensure that those who are affected by a policy or activity are consulted and involved in the design of new policies, and in the review of existing ones. As appropriate, we consult and involve groups and individuals in relation to:

- disability
- religion/belief
- sexual orientation
- sex (gender)
- gender identity
- ethnicity

Principle 7: Society as a whole should benefit

We intend that our policies and activities should benefit society as a whole, locally, nationally and internationally, by fostering greater social cohesion, and greater participation in public life of all groups and individuals in relation to:

- disability
- religion/belief
- sexual orientation

- sex (gender)
- gender identity
- ethnicity
- age

Principle 8: We base our practices on sound evidence and information

We maintain and publish at least annually, quantitative and qualitative information about our progress towards greater equality in relation to:

- disability
- religion/belief
- sexual orientation
- sex (gender)
- gender identity
- ethnicity

Principle 9: Objectives

We formulate and publish at least every four years, specific and measurable objectives, based on the evidence we have collected and published (principle 8) and the engagement in which we have been involved (principle 7), in relation to:

- disability
- religion/belief
- sexual orientation
- sex (gender)
- gender identity
- ethnicity

The objectives which we identify take into account national and local priorities and issues, as appropriate.

5. We recognise that the actions resulting from a policy statement such as this are what make a difference.

6. We revisit our equalities policy at regular intervals within the framework of the overall annual and three year School Improvement Plan and processes of self-evaluation.

The curriculum

7. We keep each curriculum subject or area under review in order to ensure that teaching and learning reflect the relevant principles set out in paragraph 4 above.

Ethos and organisation

8. We ensure the relevant principles listed in paragraph 4 above apply to the full range of our policies and practices, including those that are concerned with:

- pupils' progress, attainment and achievement
- pupils' personal development, welfare and well-being
- teaching styles and strategies
- admissions and attendance
- staff recruitment, retention and professional development
- care, guidance and support
- behaviour, discipline and exclusions
- working in partnership with parents, carers and guardians
- working with the wider community

Addressing prejudice and prejudice-related bullying

10. The school is opposed to all forms of prejudice which stand in the way of fulfilling the legal duties referred to in paragraphs 1–3:

- prejudice around disability and special educational needs
- prejudice around racism and xenophobia, including that directed towards religious groups and communities, for example antisemitism and Islamophobia, and those that are directed against Travellers, migrants, refugees and people seeking asylum
- prejudice reflecting sexism and homophobia
- prejudice against gender identity issues

11. We continue to record and report incidents of Racism, and send this anonymised data in to the Local Authority on an annual basis, using form RI2B. Within school and our Boarding facility, we also keep a log of all other prejudice-related incidents, and seek the support of the Local Authority in addressing these incidents, and in providing support and suggesting resources to raise awareness and combat prejudice.

Roles and responsibilities

13. The Governing Body is responsible for ensuring that the school complies with legislation, and that this policy and its related procedures and action plans are implemented and reviewed.

14. A member of the Governing Body has a watching brief regarding the implementation of this policy.

15. All staff are expected to:

- promote an inclusive and collaborative ethos in their classroom
- deal with any prejudice-related incidents that may occur
- plan and deliver curricula and lessons that reflect the relevant principles in paragraph 4 above
- support pupils in their class for whom English is an additional language
- keep up-to-date with equalities legislation relevant to their work.

Religious observance

16. We respect the religious beliefs and practice of all staff, pupils and parents, and comply with reasonable requests relating to religious observance and practice.

Staff development and training

17. We ensure that all staff, including support and administrative staff, receive appropriate training and opportunities for professional development, both as individuals and as groups or teams.

Breaches of the policy

18. Breaches of this policy will be dealt with in the same ways that breaches of other school policies are dealt with, as determined by the headteacher and governing body.

Monitoring and evaluation

19. We collect, study and use quantitative and qualitative data relating to the implementation of this policy, and make adjustments as appropriate.

20. In particular we collect, analyse and use data in relation to achievement, broken down as appropriate according to disabilities and special educational needs; ethnicity, culture, language, religious affiliation, national origin and national status; and gender.

Features of this policy:

The policy contains the following features.

- The term ethnicity is used in preference to race or racial group, on the grounds that it better reflects the intentions and concerns of race relations legislation
- There are references where appropriate to religious affiliation and identity
- There are references where appropriate to sexual identity and to challenging homophobia
- The promotion of community cohesion is integrated into the policy, particularly but not only in the third of the nine principles.
- The phrasing at certain points reflects the specific duties required by the Equality Act 2010, in particular the duties to:
 - engage with interested groups and individuals (principle 6)
 - publish equality information (principle 8)
 - formulate and publish equality objectives (principle 9)

This document adheres to the updated guidance given to schools in May 2014 by the Department for Education regarding the Equality Act (2010).
